

Summer Workshops

Global Communication, International Disputes & Conflict

August 9-13, 2004

Monday

8:00-9:00

Registration and Refreshments

9:00-9:30

Welcome and Introductions

9:30-10:30

Alternative Strategies for Globalization of the Curriculum: Learning from the Past

Michael Schechter, Michigan State University

10:30-10:50

Refreshments Break

10:50-12:00

The Context of Our Undertaking: Internationalization, Globalization or Empire?

Michael Schechter, Michigan State University

12:00-1:00

Lunch

1:00-2:30

Foreign Language and the International Curriculum

Margo Glew, Michigan State University

2:30-2:50

Refreshments Break

2:50-4:00

Language and Culture for Non-Language Courses

Margo Glew, Michigan State University

4:00-4:45

Organizational Meeting and Facilities Tour

Tuesday

9:00-10:30

What has Culture got to do with it? Techniques and Topics of Intercultural Communication

Guyen Witteveen, University of Michigan, CJS

10:30-10:45

Refreshments Break

10:45-12:00

The Globalization Syndrome and the Transformation of the Media in Africa

Folu Ogundimu, Michigan State University

12:00-1:00

Lunch

1:00-2:10

Conflict in Somalia and the Horn of Africa: Causes, Responses, and Prospects for Peace

Carolyn Logan, Michigan State University

2:10-2:30

Refreshments Break

2:30-4:00

Conflict and Democratization in Africa

Carolyn Logan, Michigan State University

4:00-4:45

Meeting of Curriculum Development Groups

Wednesday

9:00-10:30

Religious Fundamentalism and Conflict : An Examination of their Causes and Consequences

Badrinath Rao, Kettering University

10:30-10:50

Refreshments Break

10:50-12:00

Religious Fundamentalism and Conflict in South Asia

Badrinath Rao, Kettering University

12:00-1:00

Lunch

1:00-2:30

The Sharon Plan, The Roadmap and the Wall: The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict

Irving Birkner, University of Chicago

2:30-2:45

Refreshments Break

2:45-4:00

Historical Roots of the Kosovo Conflict

Jim Tallon, University of Chicago

4:00-4:45

Meeting of Curriculum Development Groups

Thursday

9:00-10:30

Cooperation and Conflict into the 21st Century: Patterns and History Lessons

Alam Payind, Ohio State University

10:30-10:50

Refreshments Break

10:50-12:00

Burmese/Myanmar Educational Crises & Conflict

Han Han Thi, Michigan State University

12:00-1:00

Lunch

1:00-2:10

The Communications Gap between America and the Muslim World

Larry Pintak, University of Michigan

2:10-2:30

Refreshments Break

2:30-4:00

The al-Jazeera Effect: Changing Shape of the Global Media

Larry Pintak, University of Michigan

4:00-4:45

Meeting of Curriculum Development Groups

Friday

9:00-10:30

Access to Information, Human Rights, and Press Freedom in Latin America

Manuel Chavez, Michigan State University

10:30-10:50

Refreshments Break

10:50-12:00

Communication and Democracy in Latin America: The Case of Venezuela and Cuba

Manuel Chavez, Michigan State University

12:00-1:00

Lunch

1:00-2:30

Meeting of Curriculum Development Groups

2:30-2:45

Refreshments Break

2:45-4:00

Debriefing and Wrap-up